HAPPY THANKSGIVING

This year, Thanksgiving will be different. The hustle and bustle of the holidays will be diminished. Although it could be a difficult holiday for many, now is a great opportunity to reflect on what Thanksgiving really is. Thanksgiving is a time to count our blessings on what we do have and the people in our lives we love who also love us in return. Too often, we get trapped in the mindset of how things affect us individually. In COVID-19 times, we are not all in the same boat. All our boats are on the ocean, but each of us is battling a different wave—emotion, exhaustion, confusion, anger. Our titles at Lakeview Commons may be “employee” or “resident”, but at the end of the day we are all family. We lean on each other, weep with each other, and laugh with each other. Thanksgiving should be no different. We will wrap each other in a blanket of love and understanding. Let’s try to make the best of this time and reflect on all the wonderful things we do have, rather than focus our negative energy on what we don’t. We will continue to tread water and get help when we need it, knowing that after a rainstorm is always a rainbow. If you need any assistance figuring out how to connect with your families over the holidays, or resources if you are feeling down, please let Susie know.

CONGRATULATIONS, LILLY!

Lilly is about to pop! Our wonderful Assistant Medication Manager and Care Provider, Lilly, is scheduled to have a c-section on November 19th to welcome her new son into the world! His name will be Harrison, after his father and grandfather. Lilly was 5 weeks along when she found out she was pregnant and saw her little guys heartbeat for the first time

We are so excited for Lilly, and to celebrate, we will be having a hallway baby shower! Come on down to the first floor long hall and grab a paper onesie to write all your best wishes and advice for Lilly and her family. We are also playing a fun lottery game! In your newsletter, you will find a Baby Lotto card. Pull back the tabs on the baby's rattle and if you find three bottles in a row, you win! Bring your winning ticket to the front desk for a prize! We can't wait to shower baby Harrison all of our love!

An American Experience

Thursday, November 26th

The Pilgrims- Arguably one of the most fateful and resonant events of the last half millennium, the Pilgrims journey west across the Atlantic in the early 17th century is a seminal, if often misunderstood episode of American and world history. The Pilgrims explores the forces, circumstances, personalities and events that converged to exile the English group in Holland and eventually propel their crossing to the New World; a story universally familiar in broad outline, but almost entirely unfamiliar to a general audience in its rich and compelling historical actuality.

Marie Antoinette

Sunday, November 29th
