COLUMBINE: FORTITUDE: COURAGE IN THE FACE OF ADVERSITY

Location: Thursday 13th at the flagpole at 10:00am for Staff*

Thursday 13th in the Dining Room at 10:30 for Residents

Floriography (“the language of flowers”) might not be known to many of us today, but for some cultures, it was or still is an expression of meaning and emotion. From British Shakespeare to Japanese Ikebana, flowers express human emotion and meaning. Interestingly, in Victorian floriography, our namesake, the columbine, means “Fortitude: Courage in the face of adversity.”

The columbine certainly upholds its reputation! If you have ever hiked in Colorado, you have probably witnessed columbine flowers that thrive by weaving their way through rock cracks and crags. Casting deep roots to find nurturement, they thrive on little, yet still break out in varieties of purple, yellow, and white blooms each May. They thrive regardless of conditions.

On May 13, using the Columbine flower as our symbol, we will commemorate the journey we have experienced together through the COVID pandemic. Our conditions have been harsh at times: we have faced sacrificed, fear, isolation, and exhaustion. We had had setbacks, disappointments, and tears. And yet, we – residents, staff, administrators, and families - have emerged this Spring - much as the Columbine does – ready to continue to move forward.

We hope you will join your facility in a moment of silence and planting of a columbine to express our many emotions of this past year. Together we will commemorate the courage of our residents, the faithfulness of our loved ones, and the fortitude of our staff.
